Explora's Annual Science of Beer Event Returns with New Summer Date - June 20*Science and Beer Meet for a Night of Fun and Learning!*

Albuquerque, NM - Explora is excited to host our 4th annual Science of Beer. This sell-out summer event will take place on Friday, June 20, from 7:30 - 10:30 pm. Discover the nuances behind your local brewing favorites with featured local vendors such as Marble Brewery, Santa Fe Brewing Co., Rio Bravo Brewing Company, Flock of Moons, Sunder Service Motor Co., and Boxing Bear Brewing Co.. Food and treats will be available from Three Sisters Kitchen, Laguna Burger Food Truck, and Cerealsly Sweet.

The museum floor will be open for adults to unleash their inner kids at all the exhibits. Explore the fascinating world of cooking with beer! Discover how the unique flavors of different brews can enhance your favorite dishes, from savory stews to mouthwatering desserts. Savor delicious samples while learning tips and tricks to elevate your home cooking using this versatile ingredient! Test your knowledge at Science of Beer Trivia - there will be six rounds and six prizes. Local beer experts will give educational talks on all things beer.

The Science of Beer's VIP experience offers 6:30 pm early entry for exclusive access to the breweries and activities before general admission. Designated-driver tickets cost only $11 and provide access to all the non-drinking activities, along with the entire experience of Explora right at their fingertips.
